Mystic Montana Sky (The Montana Sky Series Book 6)

Synopsis

A caravan driven at breakneck speed through the hills of Montana is the least of Magdalena Baxter's concerns. Evicted from their home, and due to soon give birth, the Gypsy woman is forced to follow her husband, Oswald, a drunk and abusive miner who hopes to find work in a neighboring town. Despite calling Sweetwater Springs home, wealthy banker Caleb Livingston clings to his elitist East Coast ways. While this may have brought him prestige, he's missed out on romance at every turn. When Caleb's buggy collides with the Baxters' caravan, Oswald is instantly killed and Maggie goes into labor. Caleb manages to keep his guilt and terror at bay long enough to make her comfortable and deliver her baby, a harrowing and ultimately endearing experience. Can Maggie, now stranded with her newborn child, learn to trust again? Will Caleb overcome his sense of obligation and highbrow conceit to open his heart to lasting love?

Customer Reviews

I have to start by saying I have read all of Debra Holland's Montana Sky series and Mail Order Brides of the West series and have loved each and every one of them. With that, I have watched Caleb's character over most if not all these books and as the staunch, upright, stiff, Bostonian banker, but this story shows him in a brand new light and I think the real Caleb. I think this could very well be my most favorite story in the Montana Sky series yet. This is a story of guilt for Caleb over the accident that killed Maggie's husband even though she told him of the abuse. He has to deliver her baby out in the wilderness because there was no way he could make it back to Morgan's Crossing or into Sweetwater Springs. In the time he was with Maggie, she telling him what he needs to get out of her caravan for the birthing and the baby, she seems to cast a spell over him from first meeting. The birthing experience moved his hard heart further to a soft more gentle Caleb. But he is very angry at her dead husband who abused her so much and risked her and the babies life because he was driving the caravan too fast on mountain curves. When she is able to be moved since not only the birth but the bruises and injuries from the accident, they head to Sweetwater Springs. Beautiful little Charlotte is already in Caleb's heart and he is also seeing more in Maggie than he thought. He takes them to his mansion in Sweetwater Springs for Maggie to recuperate and both her and baby Charlotte to be watched over and protected. This story is of the guilt, the chance to see a baby born and being the one that brought her into the world, a softened heart that makes Caleb laugh which I don't remember him doing from other stories and love that seeps in, in spite of him trying hard not to fall.
